Remembrance Day Fittingly Observed At Grande Prairie

Address Delivered By Rev. T. Dale Jones, Pastor Of Christ Church (Anglican)—Grande Prairie Town Band In Attendance—Clergy Of Town Assisted In The Services—Many Attend—W. L. Pickard Sang "In Flanders Fields."

Remembrance Day was fittingly observed at Grande Prairie last Friday and practically every seat was taken in the Capitol Theatre at the memorial services, which were also broadcast over the air.

Rev. T. Dale Jones of Christ Church (Anglican) gave the address taking for his text, "Nehemiah 24: For the King said unto me: For what dost thou weep? So I prayed unto the God of Heaven." The story from which my text is taken depicts a man who was taken captive in a strange land and an earnest request in prayer to God and his return to his home. His home, his kinsfolk, his country had been ravaged by the invader and it was his sincere wish that he be allowed to return to Jerusalem and rebuild her walls.

"After an anxious time and many tribulations, he succeeded in arousing the people from their lethargy and they succeeded in their task. They said, 'Let us arise and build,' and so they strengthened their hands for this good work."

"This great undertaking by an ancient people has oftentimes been repeated and their prayer has gone up to the throne of grace over and over again."

"And once again as the anniversary of the closing of the world's greatest conflict comes upon us, we turn back to the hopes and fears and prayers which were offered up on that first November 11, 1918."

"Our fellowmen, brothers, fathers, had fought for their country on the many battle fields. Countless numbers did not return, and as we remember how the churches were packed to overflowing, a prayer was offered to God and a wish expressed that we would rebuild our lives, our homes, our country. We had hopes of wonderful things. What would our comrades and we do for the glory and the sacrifice they made we revere and venerate. If they came back and saw us? They would be pleased what we set out for?"

"We hoped for a new world, and what have we instead?—a country after country flying at each other's throat. For many the only way out seems to be the rifle, the bomb and the sabre. If ever there was a lesson which the war years seared upon the minds of those who lived through a lesson of the madness and the folly and the devilment of war."

"We hoped for a new world where all men would have a chance to rebuild their destinies. High and low, rich and poor seemed to have one common interest—that of trying to work out a scheme for a better world."

"Have we succeeded? No. There are many today who don't care what happens as long as they can get their money."

Council In Special Meeting Hear Engineer Haddin's Report Water and Sewer

System To Be In Operation In Few Days—Deposit Charges Set—Rough Draft Of Plumbing By-Law Submitted By Engineer—Rent For Curling Rink—Application For Another Loan Of $50,000 Two Per Cent Money From Federal Government Considered.

In a special meeting the town fathers heard a detailed report on the water and sewer system, nearing completion, given by Engineer Haddin. He stated that it was just a matter of days until the work was completed and hooked up to the city. He further reported that the new pump house was almost finished. The amount that dwellings and depths were discussed at some length during the four-hour session.

Haddin submitted a rough draft of a plumbing by-law, which was turned over to the water committee to consider and take up with the Town Solicitor, after which the report will be submitted to council.

The charges were set as follows: Dwellings and stores, $5; restaurants and rooming houses, $10; rooming houses with restaurants, $15; hotels, $20. Water rates were considered.

Following the hearing of Mr. Haddin's report the town fathers considered the matter of the railway proposition.

At a previous meeting a delegation from the Curling Club asked that the rent of the curling rink be cut from $300 to $150. At the same meeting a delegation from the Athletic Association stated it would be impossible to have the rink for the hockey under the old agreement, and they asked for easier terms.

Mr. Haddin decided upon to rent the rink, but council decided to rent the skating rink themselves and a satisfactory agreement will not be reached with the Athletic Association.

The advisability of making application for another $50,000 of federal 2 per cent money came up for discussion. The Mayor stated that he had Mr. Haddin draw a plan and make estimates for the next step in the project.

BEAVER LODGE, Nov. 12—When people really cooperate to provide what they want, they are likely to obtain it.

The community spirit that built here the first public school in the prairie, the first hospital, the first skating rink, that constructed a curling and trails, by volunteer effort, has been in evidence at the B.L. Hospital sale.

The spirit that has just helped to push a pathfinder car through the winter to a hospital on a hospital enterprise. A year ago the western part of the Grande Prairie district raised $13,000 in money and value to provide itself with an 11-bed hospital at Beaver Lodge.

Subsequently denied the privilege of organizing a hospital in the district to take over and operate its new institution, yet hoping to make money for the hospital, the community was confronted with the problem of how to raise the money for the hospital, plumbing fixtures, and painting.

Canvas was brought in a few hundred dollars more cash, but money shortage due to crop prices and low prices rendered it impossible for very many.

Upwards Of 100 Attend Sexsmith Legion Banquet

Excellent Supper, Short Speeches Through Voice of Humor, And Musical Program Marked The Occasion. Which Followed In Sexsmith Hall Drew Capacity House.

The Remembrance Day banquet of Sexsmith branch of the Canadian Legion, which was held in Kirtland's Hall last Friday, got under way about 7 p.m., with Comrade Ed. Carney, who was chairman, welcoming the guests and thanking all those in attendance, especially the ones who came from such long distances. There were somewhere between 90 to 100 present.

Comrade Ivan Redwood sang "In Flanders Fields," accompanied by Miss Barbara Redwood at the piano. Rev. H. E. Webb, who was then called upon to ask the blessing. Turkey supper, with all the trimmings was served, and when the banquet was over, and the guests were being handed out at the Royal York in Toronto. The men and women of the United Church have been congratulated for the way in which this banquet was handled.

After everyone had eaten all they desired—and more than they could comfortably hold—the chairman called on Wm. Turner to propose a toast to the ladies. In the course of his remarks Bill stated that as woman was originally constructed from a rib, that he was under the impression that they did not have much backbone; but that now, owing to the tendency of their evening gowns being made without backs in them, that he was compelled to alter his opinion in this respect. He also stated that he noticed that when being built on the streamlined model, which was altogether different from the plan on which Comrade Jim McDonnell was constructed. In referring to the banquet of last week, Comrade Turner said that Comrade J. P. McIsaac proposed the toast to the ladies, and in the course of his remarks had stated that although he now lived in a state of single-mindedness, that he was not sure he would not be unattached. Mr. McIsaac did not bring present at this meeting, Bill was very much surprised that Joe, having not lived up to his promise of a year ago, got cold feet and decided not to be present. He again referring to the subject of women's dress, Mr. Turner stated that it seemed every year this article of apparel was getting lower and that he hoped that he would live to a ripe old age, if this was a fact. Mr. Turner finished up with some very nice remarks about the weaker sex (so-called), and if the ladies present took any exception to them, they must have thought they had on some other person's hat when they donned their respective headgear.

Mrs. Dave Sutherland came back with a very snappy reply to Mr. Turner's toast and said that when God made man it was an apprentice job, but that woman was created after, was a more finished article, as He had learned the trade then. Referring to having backbone, Mrs. Sutherland was not going to say anything about that, but one thing she did know was that ever since the dawn of creation women had pulled the wool over the men's eyes.

Comrade Currell of the R.C.M.P. detachment from Grande Prairie, one of the "Mounties" who stood guard at the unveiling of the Cenotaph, was then called on to say a few words, which were well received.

Some of the old-time war songs were then sung, with Mrs. S. W. Smith at the piano.

Chairman Carney then read a telegram received from Steve Keay, in behalf of the Spirit River Legion, stating they would be with them in spirit—or was it "spirts".

More war songs, one of which was "I Want to Go Home." No one took this literally, as certainly nobody went home as far as we could see.

Next on the list was a violin duet by Messrs. Nordon and MacIsaac, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. S. W. Smith.

Mrs. Sommerville then sang a vocal number, "Roses in Pickard," which was heartily enjoyed.

D. M. Innes was called upon to say a few words. Don, who had just returned from outside that day, said he had seen Mrs. Johnny Dewar in Edmonton and they had sent greetings to Sexsmith comrades. He ran across Johnny again in the morning and the only thing he had to say to him was "Hello, old fellow."

Jack McKenna of Teepee Creek, Canadian Legion zone representative, was next on the list, and his remarks were short and to the point. He expressed appreciation to the people of Sexsmith who had helped to make this day a success—a day that was held sacred by all return men. He referred some remarks Jack Cummings, and on looking around for him found his chair vacant, and thought probably Jack had gone out to get another drink.

After some more community singing, the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The following were present at the banquet: Mr. and Mrs. M. Ross, and Mrs. M. Spevakov, Rev. H. E. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Carney, Mr. and Mrs. Art Fenton, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Innes, Mr. and Mrs. Redwood, Mrs. Barbara Redwood, Mr. T. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Huggins, Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Hamilton, Miss Conrad, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. W. Foose, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spry, Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. McKinnon, Mr. Harold Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Innes, Miss Mary Innes, Mrs. J. Sommerville, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. Hanna, Mr. Roy Foote, Mr. M. Anderson, Mr. F. Guertin, Mr. Ike Adams, Mr. H. Cameron, Ben Smith, Mr. G. McCauley, Mr. R. Cliff, Mr. Wm. Fraser, Miss Dora Doye, Constable Currell, Mr. R. Huggins, Mr. Garfield Walters, Mr. H. W. McMillan.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Lutheran Church, Sexsmith, on Friday, November 11, when Mr. Haakim Dumstad and Miss Opal Johnson were united in holy matrimony by Rev. H. E. Webb. ONE OF "THE OLD CONTEMPTIBLES"
In conversation with Mr. W. J. Eady, Buffalo Lakes, at the Legion banquet last Friday, he said that he had read in one of the local papers some time ago about a man out in this country who had been one of the first to travel to France during the late World War. Mr. Eady, who came from England, states that he was one of the "Old Contemptibles" and landed in La Havre, France, on August 18, 1914. If anyone in this part of the country can best this, we would like to hear from them. Mr. Eady did not make this statement in any boastful manner, but would appreciate hearing of anyone out here who was in France in the first days of the war.

With flourishing racquets, tricky serves and terrific return drives, Mrs. Anna Krantz and Mr. Ouleau rode triumphantly through the mixed doubles, when they drew a bye in the first round. FARMERS MUST UNITE

SKILL WITH SCIENCE

In recent years science has invaded almost every field of human endeavor. So gradual has been the pace of this change in direction of human efforts that we have scarcely realized the transition. New appliances and methods are accepted and adopted quite as a matter of course.

In the field of agriculture the agencies at work attacking the problems of the farm scientifically are numerous and far reaching. But, says W. A. McKenzie, soils chemist, Toronto, it is a fact that, in the application of science, agriculture is in a class by itself, because agriculture can never be a purely scientific pursuit, and no set of rules can be laid down to govern it. There is a lot of art in farming, and the farmer, while using science to aid him, is primarily an artist. Catlin and haze today are fed on balanced diet studied out by research workers, and the farmer who successfully uses these ideas watches the progress of his stock with the seeing eye of the scientist, and knows by that practical sense just how this or that practice must be adjusted to meet special needs.

Among scientific services placed recently at the disposal of the farmer is that of soil analysis—the determination of the actual needs of a particular soil for the most economic production of a given crop. This proven aid to successful farming is becoming more of an exact science in the hands of the trained soil chemist who interprets the results of the tests in view of the past history of the field.

BEZANSON NEWS

BEZANSON, Nov. 14.—Snow and more snow! Isn't it grand? We live in a white world. All the homely fences, roofs of buildings and shrubbery wear their own mantle of snowy white. Each popular tree is a picture of loveliness in itself. Would that we older ones could enjoy the snow as the children do. High-riding, coasting, skating and, of course, snowballing, all contribute to their enjoyment.

MILK'S MORE DIGESTIBLE IF YOU DRINK IT QUICKLY
The Commentator Magazine says one of America's pet superstitions about milk gets a swift kick from science. Time and time again people are told to drink your milk slowly and in sips so that it will digest more easily. However, recent clinical experiments conducted in Germany prove the opposite to be true. The Bible Institute says that milk drunk slowly engenders more extensive curdling and is more indigestible than if drunk at a faster rate. A group of large milk curdles, it seems, is more easily acted upon by the digestive juices than a large number of small curdles. This just goes to show how smart you really were as a youngster when you wanted to down that glass of milk in one gulp and mother would not let you.

UNNECESSARY WORK
For more than a century occupiers of a main farm at Creeley, six miles from Pembroke, have trapped a red fox, three miles away. In times of drought even the well failed, and then water had to be brought from Redford, three miles away. A water diver has just discovered a spring at the farmhouse back-door.

By the Gleaner

F. Edmondson and small son, Gary, returned from Tuesday from a brief stay in Edmonton.

Miss Edna Bayne, who has been visiting Miss Allen Chard, returned to her home in Hythe on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Summers and young son, of Beaver Lodge, were visitors at the George Chard home on Sunday.

Mrs. Bayhen and Mary and Pat spent Tuesday with Miss M. Weicker of Sexsmith on Tuesday, returning to Grande Prairie on Wednesday morning and going back to Sexsmith that evening. They expect to return towards the end of the week, when they will leave for Edmonton by car, roads permitting—or rivers, rather.

Mrs. Bayhen, being very busy, declined all invitations to farewell teas etc., but was cleverly deceived into being present at a surprise party in her honor, held at the home of Mrs. Han on Thursday evening and given by Sister C.W. and Mrs. Bayhen. Various amusing games were played, a delicious lunch served, and the singing of "She's a Jolly Good Fellow" ended a very enjoyable evening, marred only by the realization that Mrs. Bayhen would not be a "jolly good fellow" at any more meetings or parties here.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott of the Apostolic Church moved last week into the house on Third Avenue North, formerly occupied by the McVetys.

The Buster Murphys moved on Saturday into the former Dunlop home on Second Avenue North.

The Bert Churchills moved on Wednesday into the former Buster Murphy home.

The Dan Wisharts moved on Wednesday into the former Bayhen home.

Mr. Freebury returned from Edmonton on Saturday with his sister, who is making a brief visit here. Mr. Freebury failed to arrive in Edmonton in time to see his mother alive.

A progressive dinner, given on Sunday evening in honor of Mrs. T. Haynes ended a large number of farewell parties given for this very popular lady, who expects to leave for California. The fifteen dinner guests met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pickard, where they "dined" on delicious canapés and hors d'oeuvres, and then they meandered over to the Fawcetts for fruit cocktails. From there on they went to the Birds, where the hostesses served a delicious lunch, and then to the home of Mrs. Fleming, served up a grand turkey dinner. This was topped by a combination salad at the Walkers, and ended at the Grubans' home, where Mrs. Graben and Mrs. Delmar Pratt served ice cream and cake (decorated with 13 candles, for the day, November 13, was Mrs. Haynes' birthday) and a birthday gift from her friends was presented to Mrs. Haynes.

The A.P.F.A. had a most interesting debate on the topic "Should we war, Doris Gant and Bill Russ versus Betty Tinsington and Mac Stiles, at the Speke Hall Wednesday evening.

The Jecofo's Aunt Winnie, Mrs. Lock, and little cousin, Pauline, who have been visiting the Jecofo's for some weeks, returned to their farm at Cherry Point on Tuesday. Another aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Vales of Ontario, and two big cousins, "Mike" and "Cliff," are enjoying the Jecofo's hospitality at present.

Mrs. L. B. Woodcock of Edson was a passenger on Tuesday's train en route to visit her sister, Mrs. L. Borden of Vahlia Centre. Mrs. Woodcock is a typical western woman and for several years has her own trap line.

The conquest of a life is the greatest triumph that man can achieve, if it is his own.

That's What Little Girls Are Made Of! Way back in childhood days we were told that little girls were made of "sugar and spice." Here, however, is the authentic recipe, according to the original Sankriti: "He took the tear's lightness, the favor's glance, the sun's gaiety, the mist's tears, the hare's timidity, the winds' inconstancy, the peacock's vanity, the diamond's hardness, the tiger's cruelty, the fire's warmth, the snow's coldness, the maple's chatter, the dove's cooing, honey's sweetness, and softness of down. He added all these together and called it Woman."

No new recipe is given for what little girls are made of, so I presume our childhood's one still holds good. But it's man who has dubbed woman inconstancy, the winds' inconstancy, the hare's timidity, the winds' inconstancy, the peacock's vanity, the diamond's hardness, the tiger's cruelty, the fire's warmth, the snow's coldness, the maple's chatter, the dove's cooing, honey's sweetness, and softness of down. He added all these together and called it Woman."

Woman dresses up primitive, but she is not a primitive. She is a creature of the future, and she is looking pretty in a veritable tonic to her: whereas man's vanity is so great that he thinks he can win woman without any great exertion on his part to improve his looks—what dressing he does do is to attract women, otherwise being, he would let his whiskers grow and become slovenly.

Evening gown

Formal footwear

Gaiety and richness are typified by this gorgeous triumvirate for a glamorous winter's evening gown. The gown is made of white tulle with the pattern outlined in tiny gold sequins. The frothy full skirt takes us back to Grandmother's day. The flared cape of white Russian ermine features a graduating hemline from the collar to just below the fingertips in back. The collar is two huge, twisted Russian sable skins, and the entire hemline is banded with three rows of sable. The slippers, latest creation in formal footwear, are of cellophane cord, tied around the ankle, and with the new spiral heel.

UNITED GRAIN GROWERS' STAND FOR WHEAT BOARD

Vigorous declaration in favor of continuance of the Canadian Wheat Board and protection of farmers against disastrously low prices was made by the Board of Directors and the delegates attending the company's annual meeting in Calgary at the beginning of the month.

The board, however, in the annual report pointed out the need for western unity to overcome difficulties in the way of securing continuance. Continuance of the board, it was suggested, would be any attempt to exploit the Wheat Board. The report stated:

"Only through continued national realization of the importance of the wheat growing industry, and of the disabilities suffered by the West will it be possible to keep the Wheat Board continued. There will also be required united action in the West and general support of the Wheat Board to which help has been afforded this year. Any attempts to make personal, commercial or political capital out of the Board, any tendency on the part of a person, a party or an institution to claim credit for its existence, imperil the future operations and the very existence of the Board."

"Your company for such reasons has refrained not only from attempts to claim credit for the part it played in connection with the Board, but also from publishing any statement for its various efforts. Several times, in different localities in the West, it has been possible to see commercial interests of the company were suffering on this account. Your board, however, felt that shareholders would prefer even to risk some small loss of business on this account than have the company engaged in a scramble for credit which would make it more difficult to obtain the opinion in the future in favor of a Wheat Board."

Mr. English will long be remembered by a very large number of the oldtimers for the great help which he gave them in their distress. When they first arrived in this district, he gave them the great help which he gave them in their distress. When they first arrived in this district, he gave them the great help which he gave them in their distress.

At the time of the formation of this district into a municipality, Mr. English was one of its first members and served in this capacity with distinction.

Mr. English assisted in cutting through the old Grande Prairie trail, a large portion of which is still being used.

Mr. English was an active member in the I.O.F. Lodge, and also the Rebekah Lodge at this point.

He is survived by his widow, three brothers and two sisters in Ontario, and the community as a whole extends to them its sincere respect.
